Electrostatic Fogging Services from Orian

A vigilant, non-disruptive decontamination treatment

Delivering excellence in all that we do

Fogging - An Effective Solution for Virus Control

This specialist fogging service leaves your premises safe and clean. It is also an efficient solution; you can reopen the treated area just one hour after the fogging has been completed. For an extra level of protection, we also offer pre-surface cleans.

So, how does it work?

Electrostatic fogging involves spraying an electronically charged mist which settles on to surfaces and objects, killing all present bacteria and viruses. The electrostatic charge within the particles makes the process extremely effective at evenly distributing the mist across all areas requiring a decontamination clean.

Our fogging service can be used for disinfection, pest control, odour control and plant protection.

The treatment is suitable for use in schools, healthcare and office settings, kitchens and domestic residences. An entire building or an individual room can be decontaminated using electrostatic fogging – no space is too large or too small.

- ✓ Kills 99.9998% of all bacteria and viruses
- ✓ Safe for all surfaces
- ✓ Non-staining/tainting
- ✓ Non-irritant
- ✓ Biodegradable disinfectant

If you require an extra level of assurance that your premises is as safe as possible, you can book or enquire about our fogging service by contacting our Specialist Cleaning Manager.
